ANNOUNCEMENTS

DAVIS THEATRE.

Fourth Reel of Our Mutual Girl Series Being Shown Today.

Owing to the Little Women show being here Friday this week the management has secured the fourth reel of Our Mutual Girl for Thursday and Saturday instead of Friday. This will be a welcome announcement to the patrons of this playhouse, who are following up the adventures of this famous Margaret. Our Mutual Girl. Some of the incidents of this fourth release are a visit to the races at Piping Rock, the most fashionable country club in the world; before attending the races she attends to her wit Teller & Co.'s famous store on Fifth avenue, the scene showing the interior of the store with live models trying on gowns of the very latest styles. We also meet New York's fighting District Attorney Whitman in his office in the criminal court building answering the telephone and assuring our favorite of his assistance in the trouble she has got into through the scheming of the count. The story gets very interesting now and those who have followed this great serial photoplay cannot afford to miss this one being shown today. The other photoplays being shown are A Turn of the Cards, The Elevator Man, a beautiful Thanet comedy drama; The Famous Mutual Weekly, and Mabel's Bear Escape, a funny, funny, key stone. In the mid-week change of vaudeville today the VerVallin Trio head the bill with a lively singing, musical and acrobatic dancing specialty; Hahn and Owen, a comedy singing and talking skit and the Bonetti Brothers, a team of sensation-creating aerial artists complete the bill, doing the daredevil act, including a suspended by the teeth. This is the greatest act of its kind in the world today. Don't miss it. Matinee at 2:30. All seats 10 cents. Children and children especially cared for at our matinees.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Ten Nights in a Barroom, Today's Immense Five Reel Feature.

Who has not read with interest unabated until the great climax, the wonderful temperance story entitled Ten Nights in a Barroom? This is the story that is the feature at the Colonial today and being in five reels and over 5,000 feet long, shows all the characters true to life, including the unfortunate Joe Morgan, Simon Slader, the money getter, Judge Hammond, pretty Fannie Owen, and the count-ess bewitching country scenes with which the acts are adorned. Throughout the five acts, the masterly story of the course of rum is one succession of great, thrilling, heart-rending scenes, that hold the audience in a spellbound, and the characters are wisely chosen both for appearance and histrionic ability. Beautiful scenes of an old world with its revolving over-shot wheel excite the admiration of the house, while the follies, the result of intemperance are clearly shown and indicate carrying the powerful moral into the minds of all who see this great production. It will remain for today in its entirety, and is recommended by clergy, press and public as it is, no one should miss it.

The Country Store, Three New Acts and Some New Films at the Auditorium.

Today is another big bargain day for the patrons of this popular house, and if past performances are anything to go by, the "standing room only" sign will be out early.

The Country Store will be given at the matinee and evening as well as performances today, once in the afternoon and at the first show only this evening and the presents for today contain many new and valuable articles and some surprise comedy articles.

Some extra good prizes for the ladies in the afternoon and some good ones for the men folks at night.

The vaudeville for today is fine and is headed by the funny rural singing playlet Town Gossip, presented by Miss Mary Baird & Co. of five people. This act introduces the original singing quartette from Way Down East in some of the famous vocal hits which they are known for. Special scenery and electrical effects with this act.

Miss Elroy, the Girl with the Bird, will furnish a very nice musical interlude with her clever selections on this harmonium. Interspersed between Rose and the third act and these two comedians have a side-splitting skit entitled The Peanut Man. This is a sure cure for the blues.

The Universals contain each subjects as The Case of Cherry Parcella, a three reel feature, taken from Arthur Stringer's story in the Saturday Evening Post entitled The Cleverest Woman in the World. How He Won Her, a Powers comedy, and others.

This is the biggest entertainment ever offered in Norwich for the money or even twice the amount.
